▼ Summary

I'm Pedro, a Dutch/Brazilian, born in Oman but raised throughout the world, giving me a breadth of cultural experiences.

Currently studying User Experience Design in The Hague University of Applied Sciences; my spare time consists of me honing my Front End Development and Game Design skills.

My personal strengths include the development of interactive designs, though I'm confident in my skills in other areas.

My long-term goal is to design and publish my own game.
